RIWI Corp. Announces Listing on the Canadian Securities Exchange

Toronto, ON – RIWI Corp. (CSE: RIW) (the “Company” or “RIWI”) is pleased to announce that it has been approved for listing on the Canadian Securities Exchange ("CSE") and will begin trading on the CSE under the trading symbol “RIW” on Monday, August 31, 2015.

“Our focus is expanding our customer base and growing our revenues. We expect revenues will, in 2015, be three times those of 2014 and we believe we have reached the stage where past efforts in development and sales, since 2012, are starting to bear fruit. Listing on the CSE is a natural step for a company like ours. The CSE is a modern exchange that offers all the benefits of the public markets without the cost and burdensome attendant regulation for small companies,” says Neil Seeman, CEO and founder of RIWI.

“RIWI offers access to true market and citizen opinion data in all regions of the world – including in otherwise hard-to-reach markets. These data can be descriptive or predictive of emergent trends.”

“Those in international security and law enforcement need to keep citizens safe from harm. Those in the finance sector need to know whether they can trust and predict economic indicators. And those in the non-profit sector globally need to know whether their vital initiatives are reaching people in need. RIWI offers the unique ability to measure, over time, whether security efforts are working, how economic conditions are trending in any region of the world, and whether humanitarian aid is working.”

“We are in a bold new era of global data collection to obtain better insights for better decision-making,” says Mr. Seeman.
