 - iv. RIWI's work on the return-on-investment of advertising solutions for consumer engagement, conducted for its client Egta, the European Trade Association of Advertising Media, first reported in a News Release by Egta on February 28, 2018, continues to receive global media attention. For example, Sostav.ru, the Russian media outlet focused on advertising, marketing and public relations, reported on April 2 RIWI data regarding the relative emotional appeal to the Russian people of television, movies, social media, and how Russians consume these media on different devices; and
 - v. White-labeled RIWI data analyzed in reports by one of our finance clients continue to appear in leading finance media that the client shares with different buyer groups across its different country offices around the world.
