Report on Business

1. Provide a general overview and discussion of the development of the Issuer's business and operations over the previous month. Where the Issuer was inactive disclose this fact.

To advance revenue growth and reach new customers across all our business lines, RIWI completed the following activities over the previous month:

- (a) RIWI signed a non-exclusive agreement with a US-government and US-foundation-funded organization mandated to prevent international conflict. This renewable agreement lasts until June 2022 and creates structured processes for the parties to sell RIWI offerings to new private- and public-sector clients.
- (b) RIWI signed a non-exclusive agreement with a quantitative hedge fund that, pending further due diligence by both parties over the next three months, seeks to productize, sell and market RIWI data feeds to a diverse set of the client's institutional investors. This extendable agreement lasts until August 2020 and creates structures for joint marketing of RIWI's offerings to the hedge fund's clients.
- (c) In response to increasing requests by new and existing customers, RIWI showcased its capabilities in order to increase the number, size and duration of contracts.
- (d) RIWI continues its work and/or is seeking to expand recurring revenues for a wide range of clients. These include: Bank of America Merrill Lynch, the US Department of State (varied agencies), the UN World Food Programme, YipitData, Freedom House, The World Bank (varied units), the National Endowment for Democracy, the UN Development Fund, the US Agency for International Development, the Government of Canada, Humanity United, Message House, Harvard University, Australian National University, MTV, RNW Media and funders of our clients at International Alert, the British Council and at the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation.

2. Provide a general overview and discussion of the activities of management.

- (a) To increase sales and market awareness for its three business lines, RIWI staff conducted sales meetings and presentations in the previous month for new, prospective clients in London, UK, Washington, DC and in New York City.
- (b) To build market awareness for prospective clients, RIWI's research and sales teams promoted RIWI work published this month highlighting the Company's data collection capabilities in China. For example, RIWI data on Chinese sentiment toward US products amid the US-China trade war disputes was profiled in July in the China Insiders Report published by the Canadian Embassy in Beijing and sent to 3,000 China experts in the business and public policy sectors; RIWI research about changing health risks and travel intentions in China was accepted this past month for publication in the International Journal of Travel and Global Health. Management also promoted to prospective clients an independent analysis of RIWI led by a researcher at Honda, accepted recently for publication in the International Journal of Business Innovation & Research (in press) finding that RIWI data collection in China was more reliable and diverse in its reach than current methods of surveying the Chinese public.

- (c) To build market awareness for prospective clients, RIWI's research team continued to publish research in July in the business section of Canada's Globe and Mail.
- (d) To build market awareness for prospective new clients, RIWI's Head of Global Research has been invited to present RIWI findings at the following events:

- (e) To increase revenues and market awareness of its data collection capabilities and global privacy compliance in all countries, management promoted reports about RIWI findings published in the past month by third-party experts and/or by clients, to new, prospective clients in all three business lines, including the following:
  - i. A report by hedge fund expert and author Ronald Oral published by the Centre for International Governance Innovation, entitled "The Gig Economy's Missing Data";

17. Discuss any trends which are likely to impact the Issuer including trends in the Issuer's market(s) or political/regulatory trends.

RIWI's technologies and growing computational infrastructure continue to never collect, process, store or transfer personally identifiable data. In EU countries and in the United States, social media firms and other technology and data collection firms face increasing regulatory scrutiny and fines for business practices that rely on collecting, re-publishing, using or putting at risk customers' personal information.

In the past month, a study published in Nature Communications demonstrated that methods now used by technology and data firms to anonymize personally identifiable data after it has been collected – computer algorithms that seek to strip the data of identifying characteristics like names and email addresses – are ineffective, since even anonymized datasets can be traced back to individuals using machine learning, a type of artificial intelligence. Management therefore believes it will become even more difficult and costly for competitors that now collect personally identifiable information, such as mobile phone numbers or email addresses, to comply with the EU's General Data Protection Regulation or the California Consumer Privacy Act.
